May 14 to be Clean-Up Day

— Selectmen Review Projects List

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening, April 9, and acted on a long and varied agenda. The Town Manager was authorized to sign the agreement with Hunter-Ballew Associates to undertake the Master Plan Study at the airport. This work agreement had been approved by the State Department of Transportation, the Federal Aviation Administration, and the Town's attorney.

Quit claim deeds for Newton, Ebbetts, Howard Sherwood, and Merton Brown were signed releasing town interest due to undischarged tax liens from the 1930s and '40s which had been previously paid.

Upon the recommendation of the Town Manager, the Board set Monday, May 14, as Bethel's Annual Clean-Up Day. The Board also discussed the growing number of junk cars in town and directed the manager to work on their removal in conjunction with clean-up activities.

The Board approved the payment of $775 to Eastern Appraisal Co. for work concerning the County Commissioners' Tax Hearing on the appeal of P. H. Chadbourne, Jr. regarding forest land valuation.

The Selectmen reviewed specifications for a dump truck chassis and authorized the Manager to send out bid requests.

The Selectmen voted to place a moratorium on the issuance of concealed weapon permits until the State Legislature develops standards for issuing the permits. The Manager was directed to send a letter to Gov. Brennan, Sen. Sutton, Rep. Brown, and Attorney General Cohen informing them of the Selectmen's action and asking their assistance in having guidelines established.

Appointments to boards and committees were made as follows: Planning Board: Dana Douglass, one year; Robert Chadbourne, two years, and Cathy Newell, three years. Carolyn Holden was reappointed to the Recreation Board. Airport Advisory Committee members re-appointed were John Head, Mary Valentine, Richard Davis, Edwin Brown, and Richard Crommett. Arnel Brown, John Greenleaf, Blake MacKay, Marcus Moore, Arlan Jodrey, Robert Davis, and Burnie Rice were reappointed as members of the Radio Study Committee.

The Town Manager presented the Selectmen with a special projects list for 1979. The list included projects not completed in 1978 together with items mentioned by the general public, board discussions, and employee discussions. The Manager reviewed the status of each project with the Board and the Board voted to take further action in identifying priority items at their first meeting in May.

THREE TELSTAR JUNIORS TO ATTEND AMERICAN LEGION BOYS STATE PROGRAM

Murphy-Allen Post #81 has announced that they have sponsored three eligible Juniors at Telstar Regional High School to attend the American Legion Boys State in Maine. The two selected are Douglas Webster and Tony Butters.

The Town of Andover has sponsored Timothy Hall.

This yearly program for High School Juniors has been acclaimed as one of the best of The American Legion's many programs for children and youth and young men throughout the nation. Webster, Butters and Hall will be three of 600 boys undergoing a brief and guided Americanism program by some of Maine's top educators at the University of Maine, Orono, from June 15 to 22. Some of the objectives of this program are to develop civic leadership and pride in American citizenship; to arouse a keen interest in the detailed study of our form of government; to arouse in young citizens a determination to maintain our form of government and to develop a full understanding of our American traditions and belief in the United States of America; to impress upon the young mind in the strong-

INFORMATIONAL MEETING SET ON COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

A meeting to discuss the Comprehensive Plan will be held next Tuesday night, April 17, at the meeting room of the Bethel Savings Bank at 7 o'clock. Members of the Planning Board who worked on the plan will be present to answer questions about the plan: how it was put together, what it contains, what its implications are for the town. Bethel residents may obtain copies of the plan at the Town Office. At a Special Town Meeting on April 24 at Telstar Auditorium, the town will decide whether to adopt the Comprehensive Plan.

Even with such an ambitious program the boys will be given the opportunity to participate in supervised sports, art and musical programs.

Transportation to and from the UMO has to be borne by the selectee. Usually the parents cooperate in assuring this but any help would be welcomed and appreciated.

REHEARSALS CONTINUING FOR COMMUNITY MUSICAL TO BE PRESENTED MAY 4 AND 5

"Plain and Fancy," the Bethel Area Community Musical sponsored by S. A. D. #44 Adult and Community Education and the Telstar Music and Drama Departments is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5, at 8 p. m. in the Telstar Auditorium. Rehearsals are continuing despite bad weather, and many people are working together to offer the community a really enjoyable experience.

The choreography is under the direction of Barbara Gasser. Barbara was a professional dancer for 10 years, and has taught dancing in Boston, Lovell, and Fryburg. She is a member of the Dance Teachers Club of Boston, and now lives in Bethel. Barbara says that there are two major dances in "Plain and Fancy"—a Lantern Ball and a Carnival Dance. The Lantern Ball is a romantic piece where the Amish boys and girls meet at night, not knowing who each other are, and dance with their lanterns. By contrast, the Carnival Dance has a lively up-tempo beat which features Merton Brown as "Mambo Jo" along with the other dancers. The other dancers are: Sally Fiske, Todd Fiske, Nancy Stowell, Cathy O'Donnell, Rachel Mills, Sandra MacKay, Kay Chadbourne, Tammy Bean, Mary MacKay, Betsy Mills, Mindy McElmurry, Debbi Garrett, Alan Day.

Ruth Feeney and Vicki Rackcliffe are busy designing costumes for the cast. Working from slides, postcards, and articles on the Amish, Ruth and Vicki have developed sketches which are being used as a basis for the necessary outfits. Every attempt is being made to maintain authenticity. Anyone who would be willing to loan or give old black work pants, black or white suspenders, pastel dresses (solid colors), men's dark vests, or old sheets, please call Vicki, 824-2284, or Ruth, 824-2475.

Tickets will go on sale beginning April 16, and may be purchased from Prim's Pharmacy in Bethel and South Paris, and from the Electric shop in Rumford.

WEBELOS DEN, PACK 566 COMPLETES WORK ON "CITIZEN BADGE"

The Webelos Den of Cub Scout Pack 566 completed work Friday on the Citizen Badge. During the past several weeks den members, Kevin Sweetser, Jay Hastings, Jay Davis, Eric Wight, Ceylon Kimball, and Scott Newton have discussed what good citizenship means.

The den visited the Town Office to learn of the work that goes on there from Town Manager Norman Ness and Town Clerk Merton Brown, visited the Bethel Airport, and performed a service project which involved picking up litter on the Town Common. For their final project, the Cubs visited the Bethel Library and researched the Declaration of Independence, and the history of the Star Spangled Banner. The boys had fun working on their badge and learned a great deal along the way.

PRELIMINARY REPORT BEING DRAFTED BY FACILITIES COMMITTEE

At their Tuesday meeting in the Bethel Town Office, the Municipal Facilities Study Committee considered a revised version of the recommendations that they will take before the selectmen on April 23. Discussion centered on provision of facilities for the Bethel Ambulance Service, should a new vehicle be purchased, and the present ambulance be retained as a back-up. While such an ambulance plan is not final, the committee wishes to suggest a facilities plan to cover the possibility. Overall, the recommendations focus on a combined facility for the town's present problems and to serve future needs.

The committee's report will be made up of recommendations followed by documentation concerning each of the facility needs the members have investigated. At their meeting Tuesday, the committee studied and discussed drafts of this background material as well as drafts of the recommendations. Discussion centered on how specific the preliminary report should be. It was generally agreed that particular problems of facility design, as well as detailed costs, are not appropriate to include in the report, since no one on the committee has authoritative information to offer on these matters.

The committee will meet at the Town Office again next week, on April 18, to make the final changes in the draft of the report.

He was hauling tanks and safety equipment into the area for the four days. He was present when President Jimmy Carter arrived on Sunday. Even after being in and out of the area during that time he was declared safe from any radiation.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY HEARS OF PRESERVATION AT POLAND SPRING

Mrs. Faye Walker, Executive Director of the Poland Spring Preservation Society was the featured speaker at the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held Thursday evening, April 5, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Mrs. Walker provided a slide presentation which focused on the work of the Poland Spring Preservation Society founded in 1976 to preserve the Maine State Building and All Souls' Chapel.

The Maine State Building at Poland Spring originally represented the State of Maine at the Columbian Exposition of 1893 in Chicago, the world's first World's Fair. When the Fair closed in 1894, the Maine State Building was removed, piece by piece, brought back to Maine by 16 railroad cars, and reconstructed at its present site by the Ricker family, owners of the Poland Spring Resort Company.

plex, as a celebration of their centennial.

The architect of the Maine State Building was Charles Sumner Frost of Lewiston, noted Maine architect, who later established a very successful reputation in Chicago. The Maine State Building has been on the National Register of Historic Places since 1974 and is an excellent example of turn-of-the-century Victorian architecture, the first floor being octagonal, the second square and the third circular. Originally the building housed a fine library, extensive museum and an impressive art gallery where some of the nation's most famous artists exhibited their works.

All Souls Chapel was completed in 1912 on the grounds of the nationally famous resort with funds continued on Page Four

WEST BETHEL Children's Center

The children had the greatest time last week under the Orange and White Circus Big Top and were too busy to go on their weekly trip!! It was a big success. Jason Bushaw—was a wonderful circus star of the week. This week Shelly Shane has been chosen for the special star of the week.

All the future kindergartners had their physical screenings for next year too. This week will be a trip to the Bethel Airport to watch a skydiving demonstration, weather permitting, and doing dozens of Easter activities like... making invitations to an Egg Hunt, hopping and egg roll tumbling, decorating eggs (of course!), making an Egg Collage, and discussing the nutritional value of eggs and the NON nutritional value of "Rotten" Easter Candy (sigh), making large colorful paper Easter Eggs, and learning about how other people in other places celebrate the same holiday in different ways.

The children will see and use different kinds of lines in decorating for Easter Bunny Time.

Friday, April 13, the Center will be closed for staff training.

Monday, April 16, the Center will be closed for Patriot's Day, a legal holiday.

A special thanks again to Ann Bishop and Shirley Gordon.

Saturday, April 7, was Ryan's birthday and Sunday, April 8 was Tammy's birthday.

Saturday morning, April 14, at 10:30, there will be an Easter Brunch for all families and staff at the Center. Please come. The food will be great and so will the company.

Greenwood City — West Bethel

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Correspondent —

We had a taste of spring; now we want a full meal of it. April can be lovely and bring us the song sparrow and the robin. But April can also be cold rain, inches of snow, and cold winds. April is seldom sweet and gentle here in Maine.

Many poets have written about this month which is a bridge between March and May. Chaucer told of "April with his showers sweet." Stevenson wrote "April comes to bloom," and Browning: a yearning to be in England: "Oh, to be in England, now that April's there." I'm sure our April is not that of England. Our own Robert Frost knew April as it is for he wrote that April could be "one month on in the middle of May" or "two months back in the middle of March." This last week Frost's words were true. (Frost has always been a favorite of mine. I have just finished a book, "Interviews with Robert Frost.")

My hiking this week has been just near home for the weather did not co-operate. So what is there to write about but the weather which we've heard enough about? Perhaps Easter?

Once again Easter Day finds a world with grim realities of sorrow and tragedy stalking its people. But there comes the echo of the same voice that has been speaking through the ages to men of every race and creed and color: "Peace on Earth; Good will to men." The voice we shall hear again over the mountains, across the seas, under starlit skies are these words of hope and promise. Round the troubled world the Easter bells ring. They bring the message of spring and rebirth. The earliest song that thrilled the silence of the first Easter Day still goes on somewhere on some distant shore. And the Easter lily speaks of faith, trust and love. It tells us to be grateful for each blessing from above.

May you each have a happy Easter.

Ann Holt, Bethel, was at the home of her parents on Sunday. She brought Rena Bacon from West Paris who stays at Chapel Valley, up for the day.

On Friday evening I attended the Delta Kappa Gamma meeting in Rumford with Lettie Brooks, Ruth Hastings, Lillian Curtis, and Dorothy Ross.

Frank and Dorothy Curtis had as callers this week: Cecil Heath and Robert Yates, Tubbs District; Mildred Bowman and Rita Lawrence, Hebron.

We were in Shapleigh on Wednesday to see Mr. and Mrs. Franz Mills.

Doris Hayes is much better and able to be out again. Some of her family were at the Homestead on Saturday and Sunday: Duane and children, West Paris; Ardell and Betty, Auburn.

Ruth Hastings and Fay Holt called on Doris Hayes on Wednesday.

Any items on lots at the cemetery not removed by May 14 will be discarded during spring clean-up.

FRANKLIN GRANGE #124

Franklin Grange met in the upstairs hall on April 12 with a small attendance because of the spring snow storm falling that afternoon and evening. The roads were very slippery and there were three accidents on the road that night which were heard about. There were 10 members, two visitors present, anyway, who braved the traveling, and hopefully made it home O. K.

There was a discussion on the bonding of the Grange issue, and the Legislature chairman Richard Felt told about the gun discussion in various places. The Medical service regulation coming up this month was brought up. Then Richard told of the topics that were discussed at a meeting held for the selectmen that he attended.

A Grange Committee was appointed to carry out a program for Grange week which falls on April 22 to 28.

Another committee appointed for the three point Grange supper for April 16 when Paris and Lakeside Granges will meet with Franklin Grange.

This being Hobby Night in charge of Carl Brooks, the program was carried out as follows: Song, "Count Your Blessings"; What are Hobbies? (answer and question) by Lettie Brooks and Olive Davis; Those who displayed hobbies told about their work; Rachel Mills played "This Is My Land," with some singing along with her. Brother Louis Mar-

This Week in Washington

by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie

International Trade

The Congress will shortly consider the results of a five-year-long round of talks among our trading partners aimed at reducing tariffs and making significant changes in the conduct of trade among nations.

The United States has led the way in recognizing the importance of an active policy to foster international trade. We have made significant efforts in past decades to encourage domestic industries to seek overseas markets and encourage the growth of exports. Perhaps most uniquely, the U. S. has worked to help other nations. The Generalized System of Preference, a list of items for lesser-developed countries, on which tariffs are minimal, is just one example of a significant and positive effort to increase international trade in which we can take justifiable pride.

But our efforts in this area are offset by the efforts of other nations to erect artificial barriers to competitive trade. These are not the old-fashioned tariff barriers of past years. They are sophisticated ways of subsidizing exports to U. S. markets. And they place our industries, which are unsubsidized, at a competitive disadvantage.

I have become increasingly disturbed by the evidence that the Multinational Trade Agreement now being negotiated may not offset that disadvantage for Maine industries.

An economic analysis of the agreement was recently completed by the Congressional Budget Office. And the conclusions are disturbing.

Although the immediate net effect of the Agreement on the national economy is slight, its regional impact could be substantial.

Smaller, localized industries in northeastern states are expected to be hurt worst. And the agreement is expected to have its most severe and direct effects on workers who are not young enough to be easily re-trained for other jobs, in regions where relocating workers is simply not practicable.

Maine is one of the states whose economy could be most seriously affected by this agreement. That prospect troubles me deeply.

No agreement is yet before us. I hope a satisfactory agreement can be reached. But to be satisfactory, the agreement and the legislation putting it into effect must make certain that domestic industries and workers in our region do not shoulder an unfair burden in the name of regularizing international trade.

Among nations engaged in these talks, nearly 35% of all trade comes from the United States. That position ought to enable us to expect a degree of certainty for the future of our workers and our industries.

For these reasons I opposed legislation which the Administration has been seeking in connection with the Multinational Trade Negotiations. That bill would extend countervailing duty waiver authority. This authority was initially granted to give the Treasury Department flexibility to respond to other governments when they choose to reduce export subsidies. It was not intended to strip all protection from domestic industries.

The argument advanced by the proponents of this bill—that we must enact it to permit conclusion of the Multinational Trade Negotiations—is not particularly persuasive when I consider the most likely impact of those negotiations on industry in our state and our region.

International Trade
The Congress will shortly consider the results of a five-year-long round of talks among our trading partners aimed at reducing tariffs and making significant changes in the conduct of trade among nations.

The United States has led the way in recognizing the importance of an active policy to foster international trade. We have made significant efforts in past decades to encourage domestic industries to seek overseas markets and encourage the growth of exports. Perhaps most uniquely, the U. S. has worked to help other nations. The Generalized System of Preference, a list of items for less-developed countries, on which tariffs are minimal, is just one example of a significant and positive effort to increase international trade in which we can take justifiable pride.

But our efforts in this area are offset by the efforts of other nations to erect artificial barriers to competitive trade. These are not the old-fashioned tariff barriers of past years. They are sophisticated ways of subsidizing exports to U. S. markets. And they place our industries, which are unsubsidized, at a competitive disadvantage.

I have become increasingly disturbed by the evidence that the Multinational Trade Agreement now being negotiated may not offset that disadvantage for Maine industries.

An economic analysis of the agreement was recently completed by the Congressional Budget Office. And the conclusions are disturbing.

Although the immediate net effect of the Agreement on the national economy is slight, its regional impact could be substantial.

Smaller, localized industries in northeastern states are expected to be hurt worst. And the agreement is expected to have its most severe and direct effects on workers who are not young enough to be easily re-trained for other jobs, in regions where relocating workers is simply not practicable.

Maine is one of the states whose economy could be most seriously affected by this agreement. That prospect troubles me deeply.

No agreement is yet before us. I hope a satisfactory agreement can be reached. But to be satisfactory, the agreement and the legislation putting it into effect must make certain that domestic industries and workers in our region do not shoulder an unfair burden in the name of regularizing international trade.

Among nations engaged in these talks, nearly 35% of all trade comes from the United States. That position ought to entitle us to expect a degree of certainty for the future of our workers and our industries.

For these reasons I opposed legislation which the Administration has been seeking in connection with the Multilateral Trade Negotiations. That bill would extend countervailing duty waiver authority. This authority was initially granted to give the Treasury Department flexibility to respond to other governments when they choose to reduce export subsidies. It was not intended to strip all protection from domestic industries.

The argument advanced by the proponents of this bill—that we must enact it to permit conclusion of the Multilateral Trade Negotiations—is not particularly persuasive when I consider the most likely impact of those negotiations on industry in our state and our region.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor were in Berlin one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor have sold their house trailer to LeRoy Olson and he will move in next week. They are moving over to the former Werner Littlehale farm home that they bought last summer.

Carl Littlehale has sold his farm to a couple from Massachusetts, and he will be moving out this month as the new tenants want to move in the last of the month.

Glen White is having some work done on his pickup truck. Jennie Donaldson spent the day recently with her son, Donald Glover and family.

Word received from Addie Lancaster in New York is that she plans to come home by the middle of May.

Russell Bennett, who owns a camp and land here and lives in Rumford is ill with the chicken pox at 57 years of age and told me it was much worse than having the catarrhs removed from his eyes. His son is sick in the hospital with swollen glands.

Grange will be held next Saturday night at the hall.

Plans are being finalized for a four day fair in August with many new activities and a new midway. The Association is planning on having dances at the fair grounds this summer. The first one will be June 2 featuring Coastline Charlie and the Coastliners.

On Sunday the McAllisters attended a baby shower for Mrs. Roger Hale in Fryeburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Inman and Renita have returned home from Peoria, Arizona, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Witter. They attended the wedding of their son Andy Inman and Cathy Witter. On the way home they spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pevear and Mrs. Thirza Gibson at Hampton Falls, N. H.

Clara Whitman was a recent caller at the Wardwell Farm.

Dale Scribner visited his folks Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scribner over the week end.

All is well at K-D's Acres. The seedlings are coming along fine—about the only sure sign of spring this a. m.

Callers last week were Judy James, Polly, Paul and Gus McAllister, Margaret Barton and Jeff, Laurie, Carla and Christoff Rugg. Saturday night several of us from Albany attended the dance in Locke Mills.

Hope this finds everyone well and happy. Spring really is coming! Happy Easter.

contributed by guests, staff and the Ricker family. Among the outstanding features of this granite structure are nine stained glass windows whose vivid color and fine line work serve to commend them to the people who gave so generously. The belfry houses four tuned Westminster Chimes and along with its fine oak beamed ceiling and accessories, the chapel features a 1921 Skinner Pipe Organ.
This structure is also listed on the National Register.

Prior to the program President
Catherine Newell called the members' attention to a trunk received from the Bethel Public Library which was once the property of Enoch Foster, Jr., a distinguished soldier in the Civil War and a noted Bethel attorney, who later became an Associate Justice of the Maine Supreme Court.

Mrs. Maxine Brown, Chairwoman of the Cook Book, reminded members that recipes should be turned in as soon as possible in order to be included for publication.

Society Director Stanley Howe reported on his recent trip to Keene, N. H., to attend a workshop of the National Trust for Historic Preservation on Community Cultural Resources Surveys. He suggested that perhaps this might be a project that the Society undertake in Bethel which would include all buildings, archeological sites, monuments and other structures so that their history might be better known and preserved.

Howe also called attention to the fact that the next meeting of Maine Citizens for Historic Preservation is being held at Bates College in Lewiston on April 21,
and will focus on the Main Streets of Maine. Anyone interested should contact the Society
Office at 824-2908 for further de-

Letters to the Editor
April 9, 1979

To the Editor:
As one of a very few delegates from Western Maine I feel a special responsibility to represent this area at the forthcoming White House Conference on Libraries in Augusta, April 17-19. If any citizen of the area has any suggestions to make regarding library needs and programs, I will be most interested in hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

To the Editor:
Thank you for your good coverage and your compassionate treatment of events.

Your readers may like to hear of something coming up in Washington, D. C., before long. In correspondence with Senators and others, I have been told there is a lawsuit pending in the District Court that will decide the constitutionality of President Carter's purposed notice to the Republic of China to terminate the 1954 treaty (mutual defense) between the United States and the Republic of China (Taiwan).

According to the Constitution of the United States of America, the treaty cannot be legally abolished, nor can notice be given of the intended termination of such treaty without the advice and consent of the U. S. Senate, or the approval of both Houses of Congress.

ican Hymn, by Matthias Keller)

COMMEMORATIVE COINS TO MARK ANDOVER'S 175TH ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Jane Rich, chairperson of the celebration of Andover's 175th year, to be held on Aug. 4, 1979,
has announced there are commemorative coins to honor the event
as souvenirs. These coins, designed by Mrs. Virginia Daigle, are of three different metals and are approximately the size of a half-dollar piece and are of silver, pewter and bronze. The design honors the old: "The Lovejoy Bridge" at South Andover; and the new, "The Bubble" at the Earth Station. On the reverse side in three sections; the Pine Tree, our State symbol; The Mills
(copy of Burt Rand), The Farmer plowing with the trusty oxen, and Sports—Jumping to honor "Pineland Ski Club's" years of activities.

The silver coins are numbered from one to 175 and individually boxed. The first ten numbers will be auctioned off at the Common on Aug. 4. Also the number 175 will be a special number to be buried in a capsule. The others will be sold in advance, for special numbers call Mrs. Gertrude Percival at Andover, and will also be available Aug. 4. The price of the silver will be $20.

The bronze coins, the same design as the silver, will be sold in advance also, for $3.50. The pewter coins will be $5 each. The bronze and pewter coins are not numbered.

The four organizations sponsoring the commemorative coin sale
have chairpersons, listed below,
from whom coins may be purchased: The Andover Service Circle,
Mrs. Joyce Martin; the Andover
Historical Society, Mrs. Gertrude Percival; the Andover Hook and Ladder Company, Roger Mills, Jr.;

Belanger.

A decorated wooden box with the three coins will be sold as a souvenir for $36. Orders are being taken now. Also a round or square paper-weight with a place for a coin to be embedded for $5 plus the coin of your choice. Nickelaces will be on sale to hold your coin by the Historical Society.

KORA TEMPLE SHRINE CIRCUS
IN LEWISTON APRIL 13 AND 14

Here comes the circus; it's the KORA Temple Shrine Circus in its 26th annual Tri-City tour of Maine. The European styled circus is a springtime tradition in Maine and this year spotlights an array of international performers making their first appearance in the Pine Tree State.

Featured in the center ring,
from France, are Les Blocks, Euro-pes most sensational highwire walkers in a scarcely believable
three-man-high human pyramid.
And the daring, young wild animal subjugator, Eddie Schmitt, with his rare group of highly educated, Royal Bengal Tigers.

The annual tour, which attracts more than fifty thousand spectators, opens at the Lewiston-Central Maine Youth Center on April 13 and 14. Friday at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. and Saturday at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.; at the Portland Expo on April 16, 17 and 18. Monday at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m., Tuesday at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m., and Wednesday at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. and at the Augusta Civic Center on April 20 and 21: Friday at 7 p.m. and Saturday at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.

The advance sale of reserved seats began April 1. In Lewiston
at Kora Temple, 11 Sabattus St.;
in Portland at Pratt-Abbott at 1053 Forest Ave.; and at Broadway and

ROLAND SUTTON FROM AUGUSTA

Two bills which were heard before my committee (Labor Committee) last week would, if passed, place several penalties on public employees suspected of conducing strikes or work slowdowns.

Both bills would give a public employer the power to decide whether a strike, slowdown or sickout was actually underway. An employee could be penalized two days pay for each day off the job and be subject to other disciplinary measures including loss of seniority and dismissal.

Proponents of the bill were concerned with providing public employers with more clout to deal with an increasing problem of sickouts and work stoppages. Opponents on the other hand cited the fact that public employees were already denied the ultimate weapon in not having the right to strike and that passage of these two bills would complete the public employers' dominance over public employees.

It appears as of this writing that legislation which would provide that 1% of the construction fees, or $25,000, whichever is lower,
be dedicated to works of art to be incorporated in public hearings, is well on its way to passage with a few amendments.

This bill, which I supported as a member of the State Government Committee, received a unanimous "ought to pass" from that committee but engendered some debate on the floor of the House.

Since the bill would apply to new schools as well as state buildings, many legislators were concerned during initial debate that certain provisions of the bill would violate the principles of local control.

These same legislators feared that state agencies would be able to mandate funds for art and determine the type of art that would be displayed in local schools regardless of the wishes of the local school boards or officials.

The bill as now amended gives local school boards the option of deciding whether or not they wish to join the program and allows them, if they do, to select the artist or art works.

The amendment also provided for artists or beneficiaries who wish to donate works of art.

A bill heard last week before the Legal Affairs Committee has generated a substantial amount of mail to many legislators. The bill, LD 550, "AN ACT Relating to the Issuance of Licenses to Carry Concealed Weapons," would establish definite criteria to be met by applicants for concealed permits.
It provides for a central repository for all licenses issued and clearly defines terms used in conjunction with these provisions. It also sets out an appeal process for denial.

The central repository of information would be located with the Chief of the State Police in Augusta and the appeal process for a person denied a license would be to the Superior Court.

Proponents of this bill wish to tighten up and formalize the procedures under which a person may obtain a concealed weapons permit. Under current statutes this is now left up to the local communities and has led to major discrepancies in the application of the law. Opponents tend to see such legislation as the first step toward the registration and confiscation of their firearms.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Maple Syrup and Substitutes

There's maple syrup and there's maple syrup—but nothing like our New England sugar maple tree sap boiled down to perfection—with a flavor and quality all its own, and yet there are those who would offer substitutes for the real product.

Labels may say "maple syrup" or "I am a Christian"—both or either could be a misrepresentation—because syrup and Christianity are so often adulterated or watered down that there is no flavor.

The Book of Matthew, chapter three, shows a sinless and pure Christ with God's hand on him—where-in God says "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased."

Yet, God used Jesus Christ, His Son—as a substitute for us, being so unworthy that we never find a way to pay or cast off our sins—but, when Christ died on the Cross at Calvary he did take upon himself all our sins—yours and mine (Isaiah 53).

Here is substitution! I Cor. 15—He substituted himself for us, that we might live. Christ became victor over sin—and his resurrection is proof of his Kingship—Romans 8:34.

There must be no watering down of the Gospel—for it's a hard fact that "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God"—and that only through the blood of Christ can we find atonement—"forgiveness" to become a child of God, Romans 5—and that is by repenting — acknowledging that Christ is Lord—to receive him as our Saviour.

There may be substitutes for maple syrup—however there is none for Jesus Christ.

MUNDT-ALLEN UNIT #81

American Legion Auxiliary, Mundt-Allen Unit #81, met on April 10 at the Legion Hall. There were seven officers present and nine members. The bills were paid and donations made. The Foreign Relations Country this month is Peru. A check was sent to CARE for Peru. There will be a report next meeting. Arlene Bean is going to look after a contribution to Head Start. She will enquire as to what is needed for the Easter Party there.

A report from the nominating committee was read. Two officers are still vacant. It was recommended that the Unit become an inactive Unit for one year. This was checked into with the State Secretary and can find no reason that this should cause any problems and would not result in a loss of charter. This is to be voted on at the next meeting. Members are asked to bring their cigarette coupons, T. V., Green or Gold Star stamps to the next meeting to be sent to the State Coupon Chairman. These are used for the gifts at convention.

The supper committee asked for help for the next Lions Club supper as it is to be Ladies' Night. May 11, 1979 has been designated as Poppy Day. Poppies may be picked up at the next two meetings.

All members are urged to attend the very important next meeting on April 24.

Special Exceptions

People who work in the areas of real estate and building are always aware of land use controls and zoning. Homeowners can also be affected by zoning decisions and stories about them are often front page news.

The zoning board decisions often concern variances (violations okayed because of hardship cases) and special exceptions (special use permitted for listed cases). We often wonder if there is any kind of a pattern to these decisions. Sometimes it seems that there is a tendency away from variances.

Many boards show a decided reluctance to authorize violations, and sometimes it takes some really impassioned pleas of hardship by owners and attorneys to get a variance!

When ordinances are first formulated, however, special exceptions can be anticipated and actually planned for the future. A flexible provision can take care of this. Thus a homeowner can move into an area where there are only homes and maybe a couple of stores. But...there COULD be a provision for a special exception allowing a future shopping center!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at EEARLY REAL ESTATE, 60 Main St., Bethel. Phone: 824-2122, 824-2578. We're here to help!

The Rawleigh dealer called on us this week.

Sent in by Mrs. Eva Yates: Sunday, April 8, and a good sunny day but the wind is cold. Hope everyone enjoyed the new winter that came our way on Friday. But we always get more or less winter in April. The trouble is people are too anxious to get to gardening.

A Century Ago

Oxford Democrat—April 15, 1879

Bethel—Very little syrup has been in the market as yet. Several of our sugar-makers report Saturday, Tuesday and Wednesday as giving the best flow of sap. April thus far has nobly kept up its reputation for fickleness and we shall never prophecy balmy weather again; but notwithstanding frequent drawbacks, hyacinths, crocuses and pretty maidens, too, have perseveringly held up their heads and blossomed gaily, although at times discouragingly put about by the weather. Even now while we write, this eleventh day of April, a smart snow storm is going on—or rather coming down.

Rev. Perry Chandler, of Gorham, delivered his lecture, "The World from Chaos to Man," for the benefit of the M. E. Sunday School. It was scientific and listened to with marked attention.

The Ladies' Social Union held the fourth of their series of entertainments last Monday evening, at the parlors of Mrs. Moses Cross on Church Street. Dr. N. T. True made his appearance and announced to the large audience present that his first half of his lecture would be The History of Mr. Clam, we mean a bivalve shell fish of different genera as the "Venus Mercenaria," or round clam is truly interesting, and the Dr. did the subject justice, and was listened to very attentively. After a song by Miss Fannie Twichell, the Dr. spoke the rest of the evening. Subject, "Brain Power," and was presented in a masterly style. The entertainment closed after music on the piano by Mrs. Agnes Straw and Miss Annie Frye.

Miss Annie F. Faver, formerly of Norway, has recently opened rooms at the corner of Main and Broad Streets for dressmaking. Fitting done by the tailor system and in the latest style, at reasonable rates. Miss Faver comes with the highest recommendations. Make her a call.

Mr. William H. Chandler & Co. have recently opened a shop on Main Street, where they are doing a good business. They keep on hand a good assortment of groceries, oysters, fresh fish, meat of all kinds and at bottom prices. Everything is kept in first-class order.

Rev. C. E. Bisbee will supply the pulpit in the Union Church at Gilead till conference. Preaching at 3 o'clock, p. m.

Our correspondent "M. D." made a flying visit to this pleasant village on Wednesday last. He writes: I found things as lively as usual, notwithstanding the horrid condition of the roads.

The meeting of the Oxford Co. Poultry Association at this place last Fall has caused some severe attacks of the hen fever, and more citizens have a flock of "pure bloods" of some of the favorite breeds, Enoch Foster, Jr., esq., has recently erected a fine poultry house with wire netting for partitions. The lower story contains at present two breeds—one of Brown Leghorns, and a very fine flock of black crested Red Game Bantams, while the up-stairs department contains a fine assortment of pigeons; also English rabbits come in for a fair share of attention. Mrs. Foster devotes much attention to canary birds and flowers, her sitting-room being a perfect bower of beauty with over one hundred pots of beautiful and rare plants and flowers, and a number of cages of happy songsters that fill the room with their melody. She has a common robin that has been an inmate of a cage for over two years, and seems happy and contented.

Try Walking for Your Health

Thirty years ago the average child walked to school. Twenty years ago the child was content to ride on a bus occasionally. Ten years ago he tried to talk dad into giving him the family car once in awhile. Today he is extremely unhappy and often refuses to go to school unless he either has his own automobile or is driven both ways.

If you have had the opportunity to visit a foreign country, one difference strikes you almost immediately upon getting off the plane or ship. People walk, people bicycle, people participate in sports activities—especially children and teenagers.

Our high standard of living and our automated age seem to have made the United States' population a riding and viewing one, rather than a participating one. Most health experts recognize the problem we face in a luxury society that gives incentive to sitting, riding, and watching, rather than actively participating. For our health's sake, we must go back to a way of life in which moderate exercise is a part, thereby allowing organs of our body to function properly.

Review your family's living habits. If your family eats too much, sits too much, rides too much, and exercises too little, this might be a good time to turn around and go back to some of the wholesome activities that were popular 30 to 40 years ago.

Your doctor of chiropractic reminds you that there have been great advancements made in the health services to help you live a longer and more satisfying life, but real progress can only be made if you have the desire to maintain your health.

Pains of mysterious origin may be caused by spinal insults. Sometimes the symptoms of a back problem appear immediately, allowing the afflicted person to correlate cause and effect. However, sometimes days or even months pass before pain appears, causing the victim to seek treatment for conditions other than the causative spinal disorder.

It is often an act of wisdom to seek qualified professional counsel as early as possible from a doctor of chiropractic. Under chiropractic care, a patient is either treated or referred after a comprehensive differential diagnosis. Dr. Stephen J. Garbarini, Paradise Rd., Bethel, Me.

Northwest Bethel —

Clarice Gibson, Corres.

Early Monday morning and only 28" outside. Are we not back in March? It would certainly seem like it; besides last Monday's storm we woke up Thursday to new snow, and Friday at times in the morning it seemed just like a blizzard. We ended up with four inches or over. Friday I wanted to go into Bethel and was told to wait as our road was slippery. By Saturday the roads had cleared; but we would keep having snow squalls and heavy winds all day. Sunday at 9:30 a. m. it was 28" and windy. Unless it gets a lot warmer by Easter Sunday, spring clothes will be very uncomfortable.

Joe and Billy Shimamura went to Lewiston Saturday to take Billy's college entrance exams. Gerry stayed home as Thelma Merrill was having a bad day.

Am also sorry to report Sue Lapan was back in the hospital when I called her home; but John thought she would be home the early part of the week.

Coach Dan Hannon has started tryouts for Middle School baseball.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stearns had Sunday dinner with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Seames, Dawn and Ryan, also Mr. and Mrs. R. Glenn Murphy.

Thursday, Wilfred picked up Ira at school and the two boys went up to Frankie's. Friday, by night the roads were O. K., and Wilfred, Ira, Jody Shimamura, and Richard Saunders went to the movies in Rumford. Saturday, the boys (Wilfred and Ira) went into Lewiston to get something they needed and from there drove up to Old Town and spent the week end with Jim. On the way home they stopped by in Norway and had supper with their grandparents, the George Allens.

Richard Saunders went to the movies again Saturday in Rumford. This time he went with Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Morton, their son Joshua, and Brooks' brother, Peter.

Kathy Mason had her car totaled Friday while in Lewiston with her father, Leroy Morgan.

It seems as though almost every family I talked to either had bronchitis, a cold, or just stuffed up. This weather is certainly contributing to these conditions. It has started snowing since I started writing and the weatherman says to look for three to six inches. Is this poor man's fertilizer or like it; besides last Monday's storm we woke up Thursday to new snow, and Friday at times in the morning it seemed just like a blizzard. We ended up with four inches or over. Friday I wanted to go into Bethel and was told to wait as our road was slippery. By Saturday the roads had cleared; but we would keep having snow squalls and heavy winds all day. Sunday at 9:30 a. m. it was 28" and windy. Unless it gets a lot warmer by Easter Sunday, spring clothes will be very uncomfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine went to Dixfield Saturday to visit her mother, Mrs. Rena Abbott.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holt, Berlin, N. H., came Saturday to visit her nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine.

Charlotte Thompson of Worcester, Mass., is spending this week with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman and Vince, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wheeler and Thad, went for a ride to Errol, N. H. On the way home they stopped to eat at the Yokohama in Gorham. N. H. Nick Chapman stayed with Louise Chapman and cousins, Sara and Allison, in Locke Mills.

A couple of weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gibbs and Heather went to Blue Hill to visit his grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Hinckley.

May I remember that mankind got along very well before my birth and in all probability will get along very well after my death.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham appreciate the young people in the neighborhood, who have been bringing in their wood, during and since Leslie's operation on both hands, and keeping the wood-box full. They are especially thankful for the two little Anderson boys next door.

Word has been received that Mrs. Frank Aylward has had her eye operation and the hospital address: 19 Great Hill Road, East Hartford, Conn. 06108.

Gladys Kilgore, Corres.

The Senior Citizens met at North Waterford Wednesday for their meeting. There was a large crowd. The Stoneham ladies were hosts. After the meeting a parade of Easter hats was held and Mrs. Ona McAllister won first prize. I happened to have a lucky day and received the door prize. Mr. Maillet gave an interesting talk on some of the trips planned for each

More about Hawaii

We left the island of Kauai on Feb. 13, for the Isle of Hawaii. On Hawaii as I told last week we visited the City of Refuge. On Feb. 15 we visited the Volcanic National Park which is on the slope of Mt. Kilauwee, which is one of the active volcanoes on the island. The other is Mt. Mauna Loa, which is to the west of Mt. Kilauwee. Mauna Loa is also the largest of the three volcanoes. At the Volcano House we had lunch, then we took a ride down into the volcano, then out by another road. Our guide told us that even if we couldn't get out to go to the rim of the volcano to see the fires, we could say that we had been inside of the volcano anyway. We couldn't get out to walk around as it was raining too hard, so we missed a great thrill of seeing the actual fires of the volcano. We did notice several steam vents as we rode along the trail. We also went through the Thurston Lava Tube which was made when a crust forms over the surface of a lava flow. The crust cools, thickens and stops moving, while the core of lava beneath still goes downhill. When the lava drains away, a cavity remains that resembles a tunnel, often with a flat floor and an arched ceiling, which the Thurston Lava Tube was. It must have been at least 50 feet high in places and nearly a half mile long. We went through it, more to say we had done so than for the beauty of it. There were torches along the way so we weren't in darkness.

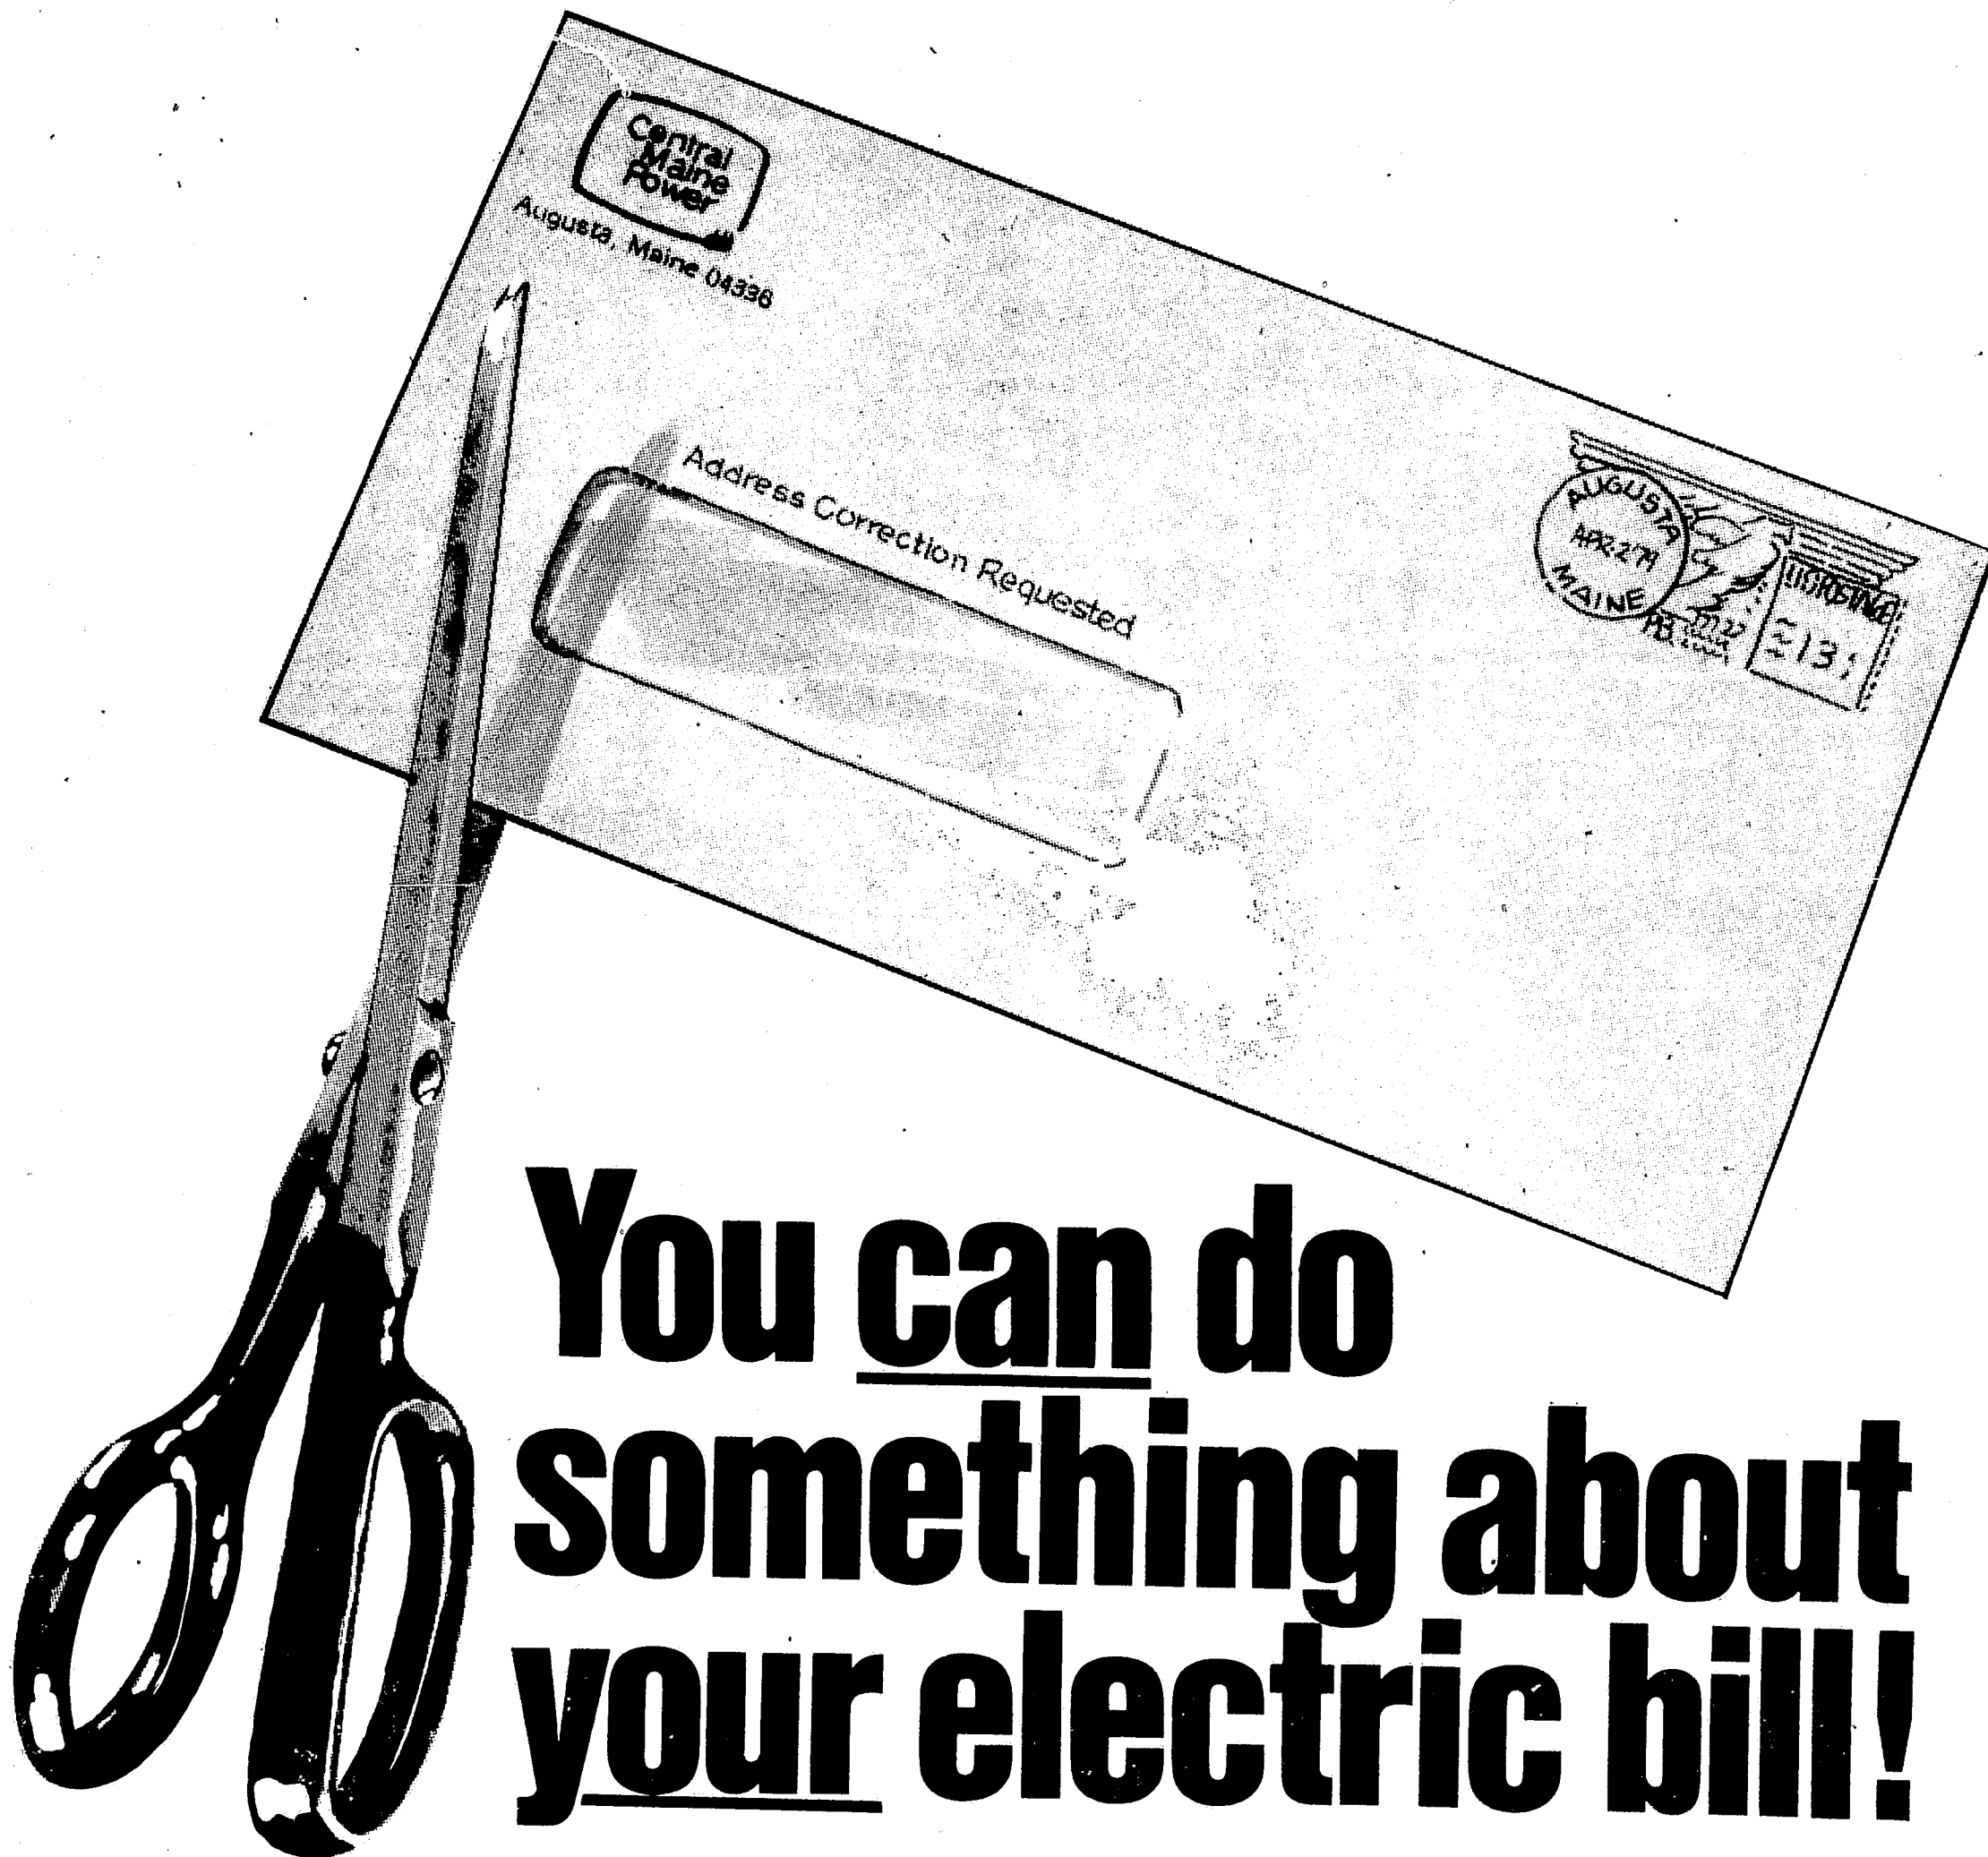

Before going to the Volcanic Park we took a cruise from Kailua, Kona to the cove where Capt. Cook was killed by the natives. There is a lovely monument there to his memory. While there we had a chance to go to the bottom of the boat, which was glass-bottomed, and watch divers feed the fish. There were many different kinds of them there. Also several of the passengers dove in to swim or enjoy snorkeling. This was one of the days that was mostly sunny. On the way there we saw a whale off to one side of the boat. After visiting the park we were taken to Hilo and had a short trip about the city before being taken to the airport for our trip to the island of Maui. On Hawaii we stayed at the King Kamehameha Hotel which was one the newer ones, built in honor of King Kamehameha the Great who united the

You can do something about your electric bill!

YES, EVEN IN THE FACE OF INCREASED COSTS

The cost of imported oil continues to climb. And right now, with the temporary shut-down of the Maine Yankee nuclear plant, our dependence on expensive imported oil to make electricity has sharply increased. So, there is no question . . . the fuel cost of electricity also will continue to climb.

The only way you can hold down the size of your electric bill is to cut back your use.

ONLY YOU CAN DO IT

Whether it is at home or at work, cutting back won't be easy. For years we have enjoyed plentiful, low-cost electric power. Those days are gone, if not forever, at least for the foreseeable future.

Naturally, we have no control over how much electricity you use or when you use it. But you do.

HOW MUCH YOU SAVE IS UP TO YOU

The extent to which you reduce your use of electricity is pretty much a question of how much you are willing to sacrifice. But certainly, cutting out all non-essential use of electricity is called for. Saving electricity is now a matter of saving money. It's as simple as that.

WHAT TO DO

The obvious things come to mind first. At home and at work turn out unnecessary lights. Reduce the amount of hot water you use. Do as much cooking in volume as you can, use dishwashers, clothes washers and dryers only when you have a "full load."

And doing the dishes by hand and hanging the clothes out to dry are not unheard of . . . plenty of people still do.

MORE INFORMATION

There's a lot more you can do especially with energy saving improvements in your home now before winter comes again. And we can help by providing you with free energy conservation information. Stop by or call your local CMP office.

You can do something about your electric power bill by using electricity wisely.

After visiting the park we were taken to Hilo and had a short trip about the city before being taken to the airport for our trip to the island of Maui. On Hawaii we stayed at the King Kamehameha Hotel which was one the newer ones, built in honor of King Kamehameha the Great who united the islands under one rule after lots of bloody fighting.

We arrived in Lahaina, Maui, late on the fifteenth. On the plane with us was Wolfman Jack which thrilled the younger teenagers on the plane. He was going to be at the grand opening week end at the Wet Noodle. Our room at the Motel Lahaina was really a suite as we had an electric stove, refrigerator, cupboards filled with dishes to use; a dining area and living room area with TV near the porch, as well as a sleeping area. We were in a suite which was situated in the Banyan Building of the Lahaina Hotel complex. We had a map of the complex as there were several other buildings as well as laundries, restaurants, tennis courts, etc., for use by the visitors.

On the 16th we took a tour to Hana on the other side of the island. It rained hard off and on so the trip was not as enjoyable as it might have been. We had lunch at Hana Bay Park—picnic lunches. We went into the store there and I guess you could find most anything you could want. There was just room enough to get around between the stacks of clothing, knick-knacks, food, drink and what have you. We enjoyed browsing around, and it reminded me of Maggie Newton's Store here in East Bethel.

We started out to go around the island back to Lahaina but had to retrace our route as the heavy rains they had been having had washed out the road. We did get as far as the cemetery where Charles Lindberg was buried. The cemetery had been locked to buses and our driver told us we could walk down about an eighth of a mile to see it if we wished. As it rained quite heavily, we decided not to go. On the trip back we saw two humpback whales playing in the bay. Also on this trip we saw hundreds of waterfalls. One of them was 500 feet high. We took some pictures of them, but could not get in all of the falls. While eating breakfast on the 18th we watched the humpback whales playing in the ocean.

When we got to the airport for our trip to Honolulu and Los Angeles we found that our luggage was still going around the Hawaiian Islands. It had been put on the plane so quickly at Maui that it had not got tagged for Los Angeles. So we made our complaints to the airports in both Honolulu and Los Angeles. After a very lovely flight from Honolulu we arrived late at night in Los Angeles. We got to Long Beach at 1:30 a. m., very weary but happy to have been to the lovely islands of Hawaii. Our luggage was brought down early the next morning, or rather the same morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Erlon Bean, Miss Penny Bean and Mrs. David Foster will leave this Thursday for an eight-day trip to Spain with others from Locke Mills and Bethel. So there will be no news from me next week as we won't get back until the 20th.

WEST BETHEL CHURCH

From the sermon on April 1, by Bert Griffith, Pastor, West Bethel Union Church.

In Hebrews 4, Verse 2, Paul is speaking to the Jews and he says, "... For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them; but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it."

You can be under the sound of the gospel day after day, and the gospel might go right over your head. You might be where it is preached, and you might be in fellowship with everybody around you, but if you have not the love of Christ within, it does not mean a thing. "But the word preached did not profit them," because they did not let it reach their heart.

We hear the gospel, but it never makes an impression on us. Have you ever asked Jesus Christ to be your Saviour? There are people around us today that are dying in sin, that want to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ. It is important that we reach out. Reach out to them that are longing to hear the gospel. God has called each one of us today to preach the gospel.

If someone is needing Christ, and you do not speak to him, his blood, according to Ezekiel 3:22 is going to be on your hands eternally.

Some of you are reaching out in love and understanding, and the need is there. God is in our midst and is answering prayer. Let's tell people about it. Let's tell people that we are interested in all the things of the world, that we want to live for Jesus Christ. The truth of Christ's person and work is in you. It is a condition created by God in the heart. Today the Christian is a believer in an alien world. This is not our home. Our home is in the heavens, the eternity. We are only here on a temporary basis. The Christian says, "There are moral values in this world, and I am going to live as Jesus wants me to live." How blessed it is to be in this company.

There is no fellowship like the fellowship in Jesus. How blessed it is to be in this company, this fellowship where Christ is the head and we are members of his body. It is the Christian full of the Holy Spirit of God. John Bunyan said, "Christians are like different flowers in a garden that have upon each of them the dew of Heaven, which being shaken with the wind, they let fall their dew at each other's roots, where they are jointly nourished and become nourishers of each other."

We are to help each other, we are to lift each other up, and to pray for one another. It is Jesus Christ, the tie that binds, one with the other.

Strange Turn of Events
For Sex Offender Bill

At a public hearing to air one of the most talked about bills of this session, commonly referred to as the "castration bill", lawmakers were faced with a strange turn of events. The sponsor appeared to oppose her own bill, and to suggest that the committee consider another alternative. The bill originally proposed to "asexualize" persons who were twice convicted of molesting children under the age of 14. However, on Wednesday the sponsor, asked the committee to reject her bill in favor of an alternative treatment using weekly hormone injections to reduce the sex drive in sex offenders.

Appearing at the hearing was a research scientist from Johns Hopkins University, Dr. John Money, who told the committee that Maine has an extraordinary chance to take the national lead in treating sex offenders through the use of Depo-Provera, a progesterone-based hormone which reduces the sex drive to the state of pre-puberty. Dr. Money reported that he had successfully treated some 50 sex offenders with a combination of the hormone and psychotherapy. He likened the treatment to a "vacation from the sex drive" which lasts as long as the weekly injections continue. He was apparently able to convince the lawmakers of the effectiveness of this treatment, since they have agreed to ask the full legislature to study the revolutionary hormone treatment.

Tax Incentives for Alternative Energy Sources

Maine's hydroelectric potential is the greatest in New England and, together with our other indigenous, clean and renewable resources, such as wood, direct solar, solid waste, wind and tidal power, must be developed if we are to lower our costly reliance on imported petroleum.

The Committee on Taxation this week heard a bill to provide tax incentives for the development of small hydroelectric power facilities by providing income tax, sales tax and property tax breaks for up to five years for firms reactivating small hydroelectric power generators at existing dams.

Of over 1,400 existing dams in Maine, some 472 meet the criteria established to test the practicability of generating power at each site; and this is the highest number of unbreached sites in any New England state. If all these existing dams were to be put into use to generate electricity in Maine, their contribution would save us several million barrels of oil annually, and dollar savings would be in the millions.

Another bill heard before the same committee would encourage pilot projects using solid waste for energy production. Both bills will give the legislature a unique opportunity to make Maine's energy policy by encouraging the use of native and renewable energy sources as our state struggles to reduce its dependence on the costly, imported and dwindling supply of oil.

Legislators Eye Abolishment of Mandatory Retirement in Private Industry

The Legislative Committee on Aging, Retirement and Veterans heard debate on a bill this week to prohibit forced retirement in the private sector which expands efforts started two years ago when Maine eliminated the practice of mandatory retirement in the public sector.

It recognized that the ability to perform a job is the gauge of a person's effectiveness, and that chronological age really should not be a determining factor. Federal law currently prohibits mandatory retirement before age 70, but does not apply to college and university faculties, employees in firms with fewer than 20 persons and certain executives who could retire on pensions of $27,000 or more annually.

BETHEL SUMMER RESIDENT NAMED ACTING PRESIDENT AT CURRY COLLEGE

It was announced last week by Dr. Richard A. Kelley, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Curry College in Milton, Mass., that Academic Dean Edward H. Hastings has been appointed Acting President of the College, effective immediately. Mr. Hastings has long been a summer resident on Bethel's Broad Street.

Since the resignation of Dr. William L. Boyle, Jr., as President on March 20, the duties of the office of president had been filled by a three-member committee of the Executive Committee.

Chairman Kelly also announced that the Executive Committee voted that a Presidential search committee be formed immediately to consist of representatives from the student body, faculty, alumni, and trustees.

Acting President Hastings was appointed Dean on July 1, 1977. Prior to that time, he had been a member of the Curry English faculty for 12 years and also served as Chairman of Faculty. He still holds the title of Professor of English.

Mr. Hastings came to Curry from Clark University where he served on the faculty for eight years. He holds degrees from Wesleyan University and Harvard University.

A lifelong resident of Boston, the Acting President is also a well-known organist and choirmaster, and for eight years directed the Curry College Concert Choir. He has published a number of anthems and organ solos, and presently is organist and choirmaster of First Parish (Unitarian) Church in Milton, Mass. He is also director of the Milton Choral Society.

Mrs. Ruby Achorn has returned to her home in Morrill after spending last week with her cousin, Mrs. Virginia Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Davis spent Thursday through Sunday in Boston, where they attended the annual meeting of the Northeastern Lumber Manufacturers Association.

From the Bethel Town Special Town Meeting To Decide on Comp

On Tuesday, April 24, a Special Town Meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Auditorium of Telstar Regional High School. The meeting warrant will include three articles: (1) To choose a moderator to preside at the meeting; (2) To see if the Town will vote to adopt a Comprehensive Plan for the Town; and (3) To see if the Town will vote to use up to $2,500 in excess 1973 Sewer Construction Bond funds to pay the Town's share of Sewer System Sludge Disposal Site Selection Study.

The Board of Selectmen will meet in regular session on Monday evening, April 23, at 7 o'clock in the meeting room of the Bethel Savings Bank. The Municipal Facilities Committee will present their recommendations to the Selectmen at this meeting.

Background Information on the Comprehensive Plan

At the Town meeting in March, citizen concern was expressed about the implications of "adopting" the Comprehensive Plan, instead of "accepting" it or "receiving" it.

The Municipal Officers have asked the State Planning Office, the Maine Municipal Association and the Androscoggin Valley Regional Planning Commission about the matter, and they are in agreement that adoption makes the plan an official document of the town. Accepting the plan, or receiving it, does not do this.

After a comprehensive plan is adopted, no action may be taken which is contrary to it. But the comprehensiveness plan, it should be noted, only puts out some directions that the town wishes to take a specific action in accordance with the direction the plan has given, it cannot do so without the approval of the town meeting.
